On the Plose, the local mountain of Bressanone in South Tyrol, there is further proof that multifunctionality is becoming increasingly important for ropeways. The GD10 Pfannspitze was put into operation in the winter season 2016/17, replacing the two “Skihütte” and “Pfannspitze” chairlifts.

In the spacious 10-passenger cabins, cyclists, families with baby buggies and passengers with wheelchairs will find plenty of room and greater comfort when traveling in the summer. Summer and winter sports enthusiasts will also be able to transport their equipment more easily.
